NEW FRANKEN, WI—July 28, 2010. Dental Health Products, Inc. (DHPI) welcomed over 100 team members and over twenty vendors to its National Sales Meeting, July 21-24 at the KI Center in Green Bay, WI. This year's theme, Investment for the Future, reflects DHPI's continuing commitment to developing its sales, service, support and management teams. Vendors showcase their products while DHPI sales reps participate in a series of vendor rotations, guest lectures, team building exercises, and round table discussions.

This year DHPI heard from four notable speakers: Brian Sullivan, author of 20 Days to the Top, Dave Kahle, Art Sobczak and Bob Alexander. The speakers focused on current problems in today's dental practices and demonstrated how DHPI can successfully address these issues with solutions-based dental applications. DHPI's staff and vendors alike were treated to after-hours team building exercises and entertainment—making the event, not only an educational opportunity, but a time to strengthen work relationships. Steve Desautel, Vice President of Sales and Marketing noted, "Our National Sales Meeting builds on last year's effort which focused on finding new partnerships both internally and externally while showing DHPI's commitment to continuously investing in our team's future with meaningful programs."
