About Dental Health Products, Inc.

Dental Health Products, Inc. (DHPI) is a full-service dental supplier with corporate headquarters located in Northeast Wisconsin. For close to 20 years, DHPI has been providing dental offices across the United States with customer-first service and sales in dental supplies, dental equipment, office supplies and practice management tools. DHPI provides fast handpiece and small equipment repair, government sales to state and federal installations, complete office design, and installation and service for dental equipment. In addition to offering more than 55,000 items, DHPI offers an extensive line of its Health-Tec® brand of private label products. The Health-Tec® line includes many high-quality and economically-priced items commonly used in dental offices, including infection control, disposables, preventives. DHPI is the exclusive provider of OPTIONS Inventory Management Software – a barcode inventory management tool that has saved many dental offices time, money and headaches when it comes to ordering, organizing and maintaining adequate dental supplies. DHPI has also partnered with DentiMax, to provide customers the premier office management software. DHPI currently services the United States with 2 product distribution centers, 6 full-service branch offices and representatives that serve every state.
